R. N. L. & B. R. R. Sold.

The Re'mond, Niel o'asville, Irvine & Beattyville railroad was sold again at Versailles Monday. The road was bid in by Attornay Fairleigh, of Louisville, representing Adolph Segul and other tien holders for $291,000. Bids were also made by G. P. Magam, of Taranto, Can., representing the Magam-Fawke Company, and fair May 25 and 26. John Stites, representing Shanahan & Co., the builders of the road.

The road was sold at public sale twice before, once to Adolph Segal, the present purchaser, who failed to carry out his contract, and the second time to an English syndicate, represented by Col. Bennett H. Young. A suit followed by the lien holders, claiming the upset price was too small. The road was intended to be bailt to Beattyville, but has been complete I no further than Irvine.

Sorghum as Peed.

Hon. C. M. Clay, Jr., has been raising sorghum for several years as cattle feed. He sows it in May with a wheat drlll, planting about one bushel to the acre. It is cut with an ordina. ry mower before frost in the full, and piled in large shocks. He leaves it in this condition until he feeds it aut. He says that if properly put up it will keep nicely all winter. He feeds says his experience is that it is the cheapest and best feed grown .- i'aris Reporter.

School Book Trust.

The Book Trust people are scared. They are flooding the mails with circulars opposing all kinds of imaginary bills that have been introduced into the Legislature, reports of committees, comparative schedules of prices in different States, etc. The latest "literature" they have been sending gratis to the Kentucky Democracy is a comparison of prices paid for school books in Indiana and Kentucky. They attempt to trup the un wary, giving net totals, making Eld. J. T. Turpin preached at this place, returned home Friday get married. Thoughtful people a difference of 9 cents per year to the child, but it so happens that their "net" price for Indiunals the actual cost of the hook to the child, while their "net" price for Kentucky is the one wishing to buy, would do cost to the book dealer; so the well to see me. J. W. lienry. Or real difference, taking the figreal difference, taking the fignres of the Book Trust itself. Is not 9 cents per year, but a little more that 29 cents. Multiplying 29 cents by 700,000, the number of school children in Kentucky, glves over $200,000. This is rather a nent little sum for Kentucky to pay each year more than her neighbor, Indlana, pays for books. And this is taken from figures sent out by the Book Trust .- Ex:

Silver Service For Battleship Kentucky Contracted Por.

The battleship Kentucky will probably have the handsomest silver service of any ship in the navy. The contract was awarded to J. E. Caldwell & Co., of Philadelphia, after a careful deliberation by the Committee of Awards. Eight sets of designs were submitted by firms from New York, Providence, Phila delphia and Louisville.

The service will consist of seventy pieces of exquisite finish and workmauship. The cost will be $6,000. It will possess a snperb center piece arranged for fruit, flowers and lights; branches at either end being for lights, to hold either emdles or electric lights. From the center of this piece rises a loving cup, which may be used for flowers in connection with the center piece, or lifted out and used as a boving cup A pun h bowl, 27 inches Will call on the merchats of listill count in diameter, with a eapacity of twelve or fourteen gallons, will be decorated with a head in full relief on either side, one being Daniel Boone and the other an Indian, to typify the early history the State. An eagle on the front and another on the back of the grain, take o and other State products. The great scal of the State will be etclied on one side and that of the navy on the other. The punch ladle will be engraved with sea weed on the bandle, and the two seals in the bowl. The eighteen punch cups will be lined with gold.

Dreamed of Needle's Eye.

When Elias Howe invented the sewing machine, he got along very well until he came to the making of a needle; then he was at a standstill, for he could not discover where the eve of the needle should be placed. At first he thought that a needle fashioned after the ordinary needle for hand sewing might be all right, but after much experimenting he found that it would not do.

One night he dreamed that he was in, a far dispint country that was ruled over by a savage king. The king ordered bim to construct a sewing machine, and not during to disobey orders, he at once set to work. All went well antil he came to the location of the needle's eye; then his troubles began.

The king grew impatient, and finally gave the inventor just twen)y-four hours in which to complete the machine, and told hlm he must forfeit his life if he fuiled to finish the tusk. But he could not invent a proper needle and had to give it up.

Just as the king's warrio's were about to take him away to execute him, he noticed that the spears they carried were pierced near the head. Like un inspiration the solution of the needle problem come to him. and white imploring the savage king for a little more time he

Although it was but 4 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Howe arose at once and went to his work shop, and by So'clock he had molded a needle for his sewing umchine with an eye at the
